

Arcadia Cohousing

134 Circadian Way, Chapel Hill, NC 27516

Located 3 miles north of Carrboro Town Center and the famous Farmers' Market

Website: <https://www.arcadiacohousing.com/>

Arcadia is an intergenerational cohousing community established in 1994. Thirty-three families live on sixteen acres, eleven of which are woods with a stream running through them. Families own their homes and lots, share ownership of the common house and grounds, and enjoy additional amenities such as guest rooms and social events.

Village Hearth Cohousing

A 55+ intentional neighborhood for LGBTQ people, straight friends, and allies in Durham, North Carolina. We are committed to creating a community that celebrates diversity; provides a safe place for LGBTQ older adults; is committed to and works toward an “aging in place” community through universal design and community engagement; and is committed to environmental sustainability through ecological policies and practices.

We have been living in our homes since May 2020 and we are now developing our new community through a modified sociocracy model, mostly via Zoom meetings to comply with our community’s social distancing guidelines.
